

INTERMOUNTAIN CATHOLIC

ROOM 421, ATLAS BLOCK.
TELEPHONE 567.
INTERMOUNTAIN CATHOLIC MAY be found every day of publication at following news stands:
Salt Lake News Co., 71 East Second South.
L. E. Hammett, 49 East Second South Street.
Barrow Bros., 43 W. Second South.

SALT LAKE

EASTER AT ST. MARY'S.

The glories of the Resurrection day, the typical festivity of the Easter days, were exemplified in the important service and the brilliant musical programme at the cathedral on Sunday.

Solemn Pontifical Mass.

Solemn Pontifical mass was celebrated by Rev. Bishop Scamman, assisted by Rev. Father A. J. Guinn, and Rev. Father E. V. Egan. The choir, Father M. J. Deneaf, master of ceremonies.
Fifteen altar boys followed the master of ceremonies.

More than 500 people received Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, and a large number were present at the 9 o'clock Mass.

The solemn High Mass closed with the Papal benediction, direct from Pope Pius X. administered by Rev. Bishop Scamman. The Father of the Holy preached the morning sermon. This follows:

FATHER KELLY'S SERMON.

"He is risen from the dead." Last week the church commemorated the passion and death of our Lord. To select our sympathy and admiration leave the different scenes that occurred between the Garden of Olives, where Jesus was betrayed by a traitorous kiss, and Calvary, where He died for the cross, were presented. Today all emblems of mourning are removed and joy takes the place of sorrow, because we are celebrating the glorious feast of the resurrection. Every nation has its heroes, and on certain days the victories which they won are commemorated. That we celebrate the victory and gladness to all who share in the fruits of their victories. The Fourth of July is such a day to the American people. It was the culmination of a series of victories which meant liberty, equality and pursuit of happiness for all its citizens. It meant a new departure from the ways of the old world.
Every year it is a day to rejoice in the joyous feelings exhibited on that
day. Merit and gratitude unite in proclaiming that "that is the day which the Lord our God has made for us."

The victory celebrated today was not won by the sword. It was not an earthly conquest. It did not involve any material gain or gain on the well-known. It meant no shedding of blood, except that of the victor. It was a moral, or perhaps, a better and truer expression, a supernatural victory. It was a victory of truth, of liberty, of
equality and pursuit of happiness for
all its citizens. It meant a new departure from the ways of the old world.
Every year it is a day to rejoice in
the joyous feelings exhibited on that
day. Merit and gratitude unite in
proclaiming that "that is the day
which the Lord our God has made for
us."

The victory celebrated today was not
won by the sword. It was not an
earthly conquest. It did not involve
any material gain or gain on the well-known. It meant no shedding of blood, except that of the victor. It was a
moral, or perhaps, a better and truer
expression, a supernatural victory. It
was a victory of truth, of liberty, of
equality and pursuit of happiness for
all its citizens. It meant a new departure from the ways of the old world.
Every year it is a day to rejoice in
the joyous feelings exhibited on that
day. Merit and gratitude unite in
proclaiming that "that is the day
which the Lord our God has made for
us."

Obituary.

DEATH OF SISTER JOE.

Once more has the congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross been called upon to mourn the loss of a devoted and useful member of the community.

Sister Mary of St. Joseph, who died at her home, St. Mary's academy, Notre Dame, Ind., April 17. The deceased was born in 1854, received the habit in 1872, and was professed in 1880.
In the world she was known as Rosemary Bassett. The news of her death caused intense sadness in the hearts of the former pupils of St. Mary's, who were in this city. For over fifteen years she was a teacher at the academy, and was assistant to Sister Joseph when the former was in charge of the establishment of All Hallows school.

Many prominent men of this city will remember the sister who taught them in their boyhood days. Among them are Henry and Clarence McCorn-ick, Alfred and Vivian McCune, the Burke boys and many hundreds besides. The deceased sister was a highly cultured woman of many accomplishments, and her memory will linger ever in the hearts and minds of those who were influenced by the example of her beautiful life.

She has gone to receive the reward promised to those who die in the Lord. She surely she lived and died in God's love. May the saintly little sister rest in peace with the souls of the other dear sisters who have gone before!

Michael McDonald, formerly of Goldfield, Colo., died at the home of his brother, D. W. McDonald, in Tonopah, Nev., Sunday morning, April 15, of a pneumonia, after an illness of four days.

D. W. McDonald and M. D. McLean accompanied the remains to Salt Lake, arriving Tuesday evening at 7:45. The remains were taken to the home of W. H. Hurd, 255 South Seventh East.
Mr. McDonald was a member of lodge No. 1, A. O. W., of Goldfield, Colo.

The funeral was held at the cathedral.
Rev. Father Curran officiated and preached the sermon, which was a beautiful tribute to the sterling virtues of the deceased.

Throughout his life he was ever a consistent Catholic, and a fine type of a citizen and manhood.

A wife and two little daughters are left to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and loving father. May God compense them in their great desolation, and may their consolation be the knowledge that their dear one lived and died with the peace of God upon him.

Important Questions.

All are interested in the future financially. The future will be what you make it.

(1) Why do so many fail?
(2) Why do many per cent of those using their best judgment in financial speculations meet their Waterloo, i. e., lose in the battle of life?

(3) Which is the safest road to riches?

(4) When and how should a person begin to accumulate?

We have here these four questions.
Our solution is the result of long experience.

First—Because one lucky speculator induces many to take some risk.
Secondly—Because the ninety-nine misjudges, and in their speculation lose all their savings through mismanagement, carelessness, or litigation. This is verified daily.

Thirdly—The best, safest, and quickest way to get rich is to invest only where you get guaranteed security for your investment.

Fourthly—The time to begin is when you have five, ten, or more dollars a month from your personal wages. The way we will explain if you write or call at our office. We have clients in every state in the union.

Salt Lake Security & Trust company, Main street.

$1.00 TELEPHONES
For residences twenty calls allowed.

$2.00 TELEPHONES.
Unlimited service for residence.
Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Co.

The people's bank, tested and proved to be the safest and soundest of all time banks. We invite right scrutiny as to merits, and will explain its workings.

SALT LAKE SECURITY & TRUST COMPANY.

CATHEDRAL NOTES.
Rev. M. J. Deneaf left on Thursday for a two weeks' sojourn in the east.

Beginning next Monday, May 1, the morning Mass will be celebrated at 7:30.

Work on the new cathedral is progressing rapidly. Stone for the completion of the towers is now being cut. The plaster will soon be commenced. The contract for the plumbing has been awarded to George Doyle & Co. The stained glass windows to be manufactured. Much work was announced at the different masses on Wedding Bells.

Cullen-Leonard.

On Wednesday evening, Rev. Bishop Scamman united in marriage Miss Helen Cullen, eldest daughter of Matthias Cullen, and Fred L. Leonard.
The pretty bride, who wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon, with trimmings of princess lace, was attended by Miss Julia Cullen as maid of honor, and Miss Emma Harsh as bridesmaid. Miss Cullen's gown was of white chiffon, while Miss Raabe wore all in white. The bridesmaid carried a large bouquet of white roses and white lilies. The bridegroom carried a large bouquet of white roses and white lilies. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bishop Scamman. The wedding was a beautiful affair, and the guests were entertained by a large and elegant dinner. The wedding was a beautiful affair, and the guests were
entertained by a large and elegant
dinner. The wedding was a beautiful affair, and the guests were entertained by a large and elegant dinner.

On Tuesday, at 7:30 a. m., there will be a solemn requiem service for the soul of William W. Jones, who died on Monday. The deceased will be remained by many old friends who did business with him in years past.

A large delegation from the local branch of the Knights of Columbus will go to Ogden on Sunday morning to attend the initiation of new members in the Junction City. A special train has been chartered by the Knights of the Holy Grande Western railway, which will leave at 7:30 a. m., and returning, leave Ogden at 10 p. m. Round trip, $1.00.

The delegates to the state conference for Utah, Idaho and Nevada will assemble in the hall of the Salt Lake temple at 10 a. m., Tuesday, May 2, 1905. All members of the order are cordially invited to the entertainment to be given the same evening in the Council hall at 8 p. m. It is hoped that a large number will be present to meet the delegates.

A new device for accumulating savings has been patented. It is a device which accumulates savings, and gives a dime upwards. Call and see.

INFORMATION WANTED.

SITUATION—Information is required of the present whereabouts of Patrick Stanton, formerly of Siskiyou, Rallapage, County Kilkenny, Ireland, who left home in 1892 and was last heard of in Denver, Colo. He is son of the late Henry Stanton, J. P., and his widow, Margaret Stanton.
Write to M. M. Murphy, Solicitor, Kilkeny.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard left on the train for a wedding trip in California.
They will be in their new home after June 1 at the residence of Ninth East and Fifth South streets.

The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
Leonard and his charming bride.

Miss Elvira J. Perkins and J. M.
Sullivan were united in marriage on Tuesday by Rev. Bishop Scamman.
The happy young couple have the best wishes of all friends for all happiness to attend them through life.

Buckingham-Kemper.
Miss Darlene Buckingham and R. L.
Kemper of Omaha were married on Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.
Buckingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemper were the recipients of a very large number of wedding presents from friends and relatives of the country, showing that a number of friends they have and how well they are liked. They will reside in Omaha, where the bride is a rising young man, and to which city they will be going enjoying an extended trip in the west.
The best wishes of all their friends will follow them through life.

McDonald-De Bouzek.
At St. Ignace church last Monday morning Miss Minnie McDonald and
J. A. De Bouzek were married by Rev.
J. A. De Bouzek. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Janetina McDonald, and Allen Moreaux was best man.

After the church ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
J. D. McDonald, 504 West Tenth street.
None but relatives and a few intimate friends were present.

Mr. De Bouzek is one of the best known young ladies of Pueblo, where she has lived nearly all her life. Mr.
De Bouzek formerly lived in Pueblo
but is now residing in Salt Lake City.
The young couple left for the noon train for Denver, where they will stop for a few days before going to Salt Lake City, where they will be at home at 123 G street.
Pueblo, Chieftain.

The foregoing announcement is of much interest to many friends in this city.

The groom is the artist for The Intermountain Catholic, and he is one of Salt Lake's most popular young men.
The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
De Bouzek and his charming bride.

Quinn-Fitzgerald.
John T. Fitzgerald and Miss Hannah
Quinn of Park City were married by Father Kelly on Tuesday.

The best wishes of many friends are extended to the popular couple and
The Intermountain Catholic unites with them in tender congratulations.

THE DRAMA.
Clarence Quinn, delightful comedian
and charming singer, comes to the Salt Lake theatre last half of next week
in one of his most successful plays,
"The composition of his manager, Augustus P. Quinn, is a new and romantic of Athens." When the play was first produced in New York it ran for nearly five months to enthusiastic audiences. The play is a new and conventional. Such the work of the military and the over-due mortgage
of the play. The character for young Irishman, son of a baronet and brother of a contrastingly wicked brother. These two are opposed in affairs of love and money. There is plot with gypsies to abduct a little sister of the hero. The successful operation of the scheme is to a certain point. The play is a new and romantic of Athens. The time is a hundred years ago when the vicinity of Athens was sufficiently picturesque and peculiar to warrant the creation of such a romance there. A reckless duel is fought with swords by Dick and the villain, and it is the hero's victory in this affair of honor that brings the story to a happy conclusion. The play has contributed a set of charming ballads, they are entitled "Oleot's Lulla-
by," "The Irish Swell," and "My Wild Irish Rose," and others.

An eminent musician thus describes the great violinist, Ysaye as he appeared while playing his instrument:
"Then the 'Kreutzer Sonata' began,
and I looked at Ysaye as he stood holding the violin between his fingers and looking vaguely into space. He put the violin to his shoulder. There he had been like a mass of clay waiting the sculptor's touch. As the music came an inviolable touch passed over
it, the heavy mouth and the eyes
over him pressed down on the violin, but the eyelids and the eyebrows
began to move, as if he were drawing it with a kind of sleeping ecstasy, as one draws in perfume out of a flower. Then, in that instant, a beauty came into the world; a new thing was created, lived, died having revealed itself to all those who were capable
of receiving it."

Ysaye will be at the Salt Lake theatre May 1.

White Whittlesy, the new Belasco
star, who created so profound an impression when he made his first appearance in this city a few months ago, is to play a second engagement at the Salt Lake theatre next Monday Tuesday and Wednesday night, when he will be seen in the superb production of the "The Second in Command."

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard left on the
train for a wedding trip in California.
They will be in their new home after
June 1 at the residence of Ninth East
and Fifth South streets.

The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
Leonard and his charming bride.

McDonald-De Bouzek.
At St. Ignace church last Monday
morning Miss Minnie McDonald and
J. A. De Bouzek were married by Rev.
J. A. De Bouzek. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Janetina McDonald, and Allen Moreaux was
best man.

After the church ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home
of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
J. D. McDonald, 504 West Tenth street.
None but relatives and a few intimate
friends were present.

Mr. De Bouzek is one of the best known young ladies of Pueblo, where
she has lived nearly all her life. Mr.
De Bouzek formerly lived in Pueblo
but is now residing in Salt Lake City.
The young couple left
for the noon train for Denver, where
they will stop for a few days before
going to Salt Lake City, where they will be at home at 123 G street.
Pueblo, Chieftain.

The foregoing announcement is of
much interest to many friends in this
city.

The groom is the artist for The In-
termountain Catholic, and he is one of Salt Lake's most popular young men.
The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
De Bouzek and his charming bride.

Quinn-Fitzgerald.
John T. Fitzgerald and Miss Hannah
Quinn of Park City were married by Father Kelly on Tuesday.

The best wishes of many friends are
extended to the popular couple and
The Intermountain Catholic unites
with them in tender congratulations.

THE DRAMA.
Clarence Quinn, delightful comedian
and charming singer, comes to the Salt Lake theatre last half of next week
in one of his most successful plays,
"The composition of his manager,
Augustus P. Quinn, is a new and
romantic of Athens." When the play
was first produced in New York it
ran for nearly five months to enthusiastic
audiences. The play is a new and
conventional. Such the work of
the military and the over-due mortgage
of the play. The character for
young Irishman, son of a baronet and
brother of a contrastingly wicked
brother. These two are opposed in affairs of love and money. There is
plot with gypsies to abduct a little
sister of the hero. The successful
operation of the scheme is to a certain point. The play is a new and
romantic of Athens. The time is a hundred years ago when the vicinity of Athens was sufficiently picturesque
and peculiar to warrant the creation of
such a romance there. A reckless duel
is fought with swords by Dick and the
villain, and it is the hero's victory in
this affair of honor that brings the
story to a happy conclusion. The play
has contributed a set of charming bal-
lads, they are entitled "Oleot's Lulla-
by," "The Irish Swell," and "My Wild
Irish Rose," and others.

An eminent musician thus describes
the great violinist, Ysaye as he appeared while playing his instrument:
"Then the 'Kreutzer Sonata' began,
and I looked at Ysaye as he stood
holding the violin between his fingers
and looking vaguely into space. He
put the violin to his shoulder. There he
had been like a mass of clay waiting
the sculptor's touch. As the music
came an inviolable touch passed over
it, the heavy mouth and the eyes
over him pressed down on the violin,
but the eyelids and the eyebrows
began to move, as if he were drawing it with a kind of sleeping ecstasy,
as one draws in perfume out of a
flower. Then, in that instant, a beauty
came into the world; a new thing was
created, lived, died having revealed
itself to all those who were capable
of receiving it."

Ysaye will be at the Salt Lake theatre May 1.

White Whittlesy, the new Belasco
star, who created so profound an impression when he made his first appearance in this city a few months
ago, is to play a second engagement at
the Salt Lake theatre next Monday Tuesday and Wednesday night, when
he will be seen in the superb production of the "The Second in Command."

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard left on the
train for a wedding trip in California.
They will be in their new home after
June 1 at the residence of Ninth East
and Fifth South streets.

The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
Leonard and his charming bride.

McDonald-De Bouzek.
At St. Ignace church last Monday
morning Miss Minnie McDonald and
J. A. De Bouzek were married by Rev.
J. A. De Bouzek. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Janetina McDonald, and Allen Moreaux was
best man.

After the church ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home
of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
J. D. McDonald, 504 West Tenth street.
None but relatives and a few intimate
friends were present.

Mr. De Bouzek is one of the best known young ladies of Pueblo, where
she has lived nearly all her life. Mr.
De Bouzek formerly lived in Pueblo
but is now residing in Salt Lake City.
The young couple left
for the noon train for Denver, where
they will stop for a few days before
going to Salt Lake City, where they will be at home at 123 G street.
Pueblo, Chieftain.

The foregoing announcement is of
much interest to many friends in this
city.

The groom is the artist for The In-
termountain Catholic, and he is one of Salt Lake's most popular young men.
The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
De Bouzek and his charming bride.

Quinn-Fitzgerald.
John T. Fitzgerald and Miss Hannah
Quinn of Park City were married by Father Kelly on Tuesday.

The best wishes of many friends are
extended to the popular couple and
The Intermountain Catholic unites
with them in tender congratulations.

THE DRAMA.
Clarence Quinn, delightful comedian
and charming singer, comes to the Salt Lake theatre last half of next week
in one of his most successful plays,
"The composition of his manager,
Augustus P. Quinn, is a new and
romantic of Athens." When the play
was first produced in New York it
ran for nearly five months to enthusiastic
audiences. The play is a new and
conventional. Such the work of
the military and the over-due mortgage
of the play. The character for
young Irishman, son of a baronet and
brother of a contrastingly wicked
brother. These two are opposed in affairs of love and money. There is
plot with gypsies to abduct a little
sister of the hero. The successful
operation of the scheme is to a certain point. The play is a new and
romantic of Athens. The time is a hundred years ago when the vicinity of Athens was sufficiently picturesque
and peculiar to warrant the creation of
such a romance there. A reckless duel
is fought with swords by Dick and the
villain, and it is the hero's victory in
this affair of honor that brings the
story to a happy conclusion. The play
has contributed a set of charming bal-
lads, they are entitled "Oleot's Lulla-
by," "The Irish Swell," and "My Wild
Irish Rose," and others.

An eminent musician thus describes
the great violinist, Ysaye as he appeared while playing his instrument:
"Then the 'Kreutzer Sonata' began,
and I looked at Ysaye as he stood
holding the violin between his fingers
and looking vaguely into space. He
put the violin to his shoulder. There he
had been like a mass of clay waiting
the sculptor's touch. As the music
came an inviolable touch passed over
it, the heavy mouth and the eyes
over him pressed down on the violin,
but the eyelids and the eyebrows
began to move, as if he were drawing it with a kind of sleeping ecstasy,
as one draws in perfume out of a
flower. Then, in that instant, a beauty
came into the world; a new thing was
created, lived, died having revealed
itself to all those who were capable
of receiving it."

Ysaye will be at the Salt Lake theatre May 1.

White Whittlesy, the new Belasco
star, who created so profound an impression when he made his first appearance in this city a few months
ago, is to play a second engagement at
the Salt Lake theatre next Monday Tuesday and Wednesday night, when
he will be seen in the superb production of the "The Second in Command."

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard left on the
train for a wedding trip in California.
They will be in their new home after
June 1 at the residence of Ninth East
and Fifth South streets.

The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
Leonard and his charming bride.

McDonald-De Bouzek.
At St. Ignace church last Monday
morning Miss Minnie McDonald and
J. A. De Bouzek were married by Rev.
J. A. De Bouzek. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Janetina McDonald, and Allen Moreaux was
best man.

After the church ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home
of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
J. D. McDonald, 504 West Tenth street.
None but relatives and a few intimate
friends were present.

Mr. De Bouzek is one of the best known young ladies of Pueblo, where
she has lived nearly all her life. Mr.
De Bouzek formerly lived in Pueblo
but is now residing in Salt Lake City.
The young couple left
for the noon train for Denver, where
they will stop for a few days before
going to Salt Lake City, where they will be at home at 123 G street.
Pueblo, Chieftain.

The foregoing announcement is of
much interest to many friends in this
city.

The groom is the artist for The In-
termountain Catholic, and he is one of Salt Lake's most popular young men.
The Intermountain Catholic extends
best wishes for all happiness to Mr.
De Bouzek and his charming bride.

Quinn-Fitzgerald.
John T. Fitzgerald and Miss Hannah
Quinn of Park City were married by Father Kelly on Tuesday.

The best wishes of many friends are
extended to the popular couple and
The Intermountain Catholic unites
with them in tender congratulations.

THE DRAMA.
Clarence Quinn, delightful comedian
and charming singer, comes to the Salt Lake theatre last half of next week
in one of his most successful plays,
"The composition of his manager,
Augustus P. Quinn, is a new and
romantic of Athens." When the play
was first produced in New York it
ran for nearly five months to enthusiastic
audiences. The play is a new and
conventional. Such the work of
the military and the over-due mortgage
of the play. The character for
young Irishman, son of a baronet and
brother of a contrastingly wicked
brother. These two are opposed in affairs of love and money. There is
plot with gypsies to abduct a little
sister of the hero. The successful
operation of the scheme is to a certain point. The play is a new and
romantic of Athens. The time is a hundred years ago when the vicinity of Athens was sufficiently picturesque
and peculiar to warrant the creation of
such a romance there. A reckless duel
is fought with swords by Dick and the
villain, and it is the hero's victory in
this affair of honor that brings the
story to a happy conclusion. The play
has contributed a set of charming bal-
lads, they are entitled "Oleot's Lulla-
by," "The Irish Swell," and "My Wild Irish Rose," and others.

mand" on Tuesday evening, and "Soldiers of Fortune" on the Wednesday night of the engagement.

Since White Whittlesy was seen in this city, he has played over the entire Pacific coast, as well as through the southern states, and reports from every city show that the talented young actor was received with marked enthusiasm everywhere. The strength of his supporting company and the lavish manner in which his managers, Belasco, Mayer and Price, staged the plays were also the cause of considerable praise on the part of press and public alike. Whittlesy has firmly established himself as a romantic actor of the highest standard, and his return to this city is likely to result in crowded houses during his brief engagement. Those who witnessed the work of Whittlesy on his previous visit to this city will remember the artistic and careful presentation he gave of the various characters he represented. He showed that he was the possessor of marked talents and of that personal magnetism that at once excites friendly relations between actor and his audience. The performances given by White Whittlesy and his company are noted for the careful attention to the slightest detail, thus ensuring to the public an enjoyable performance.

When White Whittlesy first played in this city he did so as an entire stranger, but on the first night of his engagement he was followed by such a crowd of admirers that it was necessary to add to the cast of the play. The visit here, plays like "Heartstone," "The Second in Command" and "Soldiers of Fortune" naturally appeal to the popular tastes and the love of artistic productions. Many inquiries have been made at the box office of the theatre as to when White Whittlesy will again play in this city, and the announcement of his forthcoming return engagement has been received with lively satisfaction by hundreds of admirers. The management of the Salt Lake theatre is preparing for a very large business during the engagement of Whittlesy. The strength of the company supporting Whittlesy is well known, and the fact that he is accompanied by a large and talented player as Eugene Thale, Victor Vigors, Brissac, Alfa Perry, Edith Campbell, Hallie White and Messrs.
Mitchell, Carl Voth, Reginald Mason, Charles Sherman, Erville Alderson, Thomas P. Nowlan, Taylor Curtis and Harry D. Byers.

The three degrees will be conferred upon a class of sixty-five candidates in Ogden, on Sunday, April 30, 1905, commencing at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Candidates and members will attend mass in a body at 10:30 a. m. Speeches will be made by the Grand Master, W. H. Hurd, and the Grand Secretary, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Treasurer, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Chaplain, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Organist, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Chorister, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Cantor, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Soloist, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Accompanist, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Conductor, J. H. Hurd, and the Grand Master of Ceremonies, J. H.
Hurd, and the Grand Secretary, J. H.
Hurd, and the Grand Treasurer, J. H.
Hurd, and the Grand Chaplain, J. H.